

2019 WAPC FETAL MONITORING “LUNCH AND LEARN” SERIES:

Beyond the Basics: The Art and Science of Tracing Interpretation

→ ABOUT THIS SERIES

Monitoring a woman and her fetus during the antepartum and intrapartum periods is an essential component of perinatal care. This course offers:

- An interactive approach that goes beyond the basics of who, how, and when to monitor.
- Content for those who have demonstrated competency in basic fetal monitoring skills.
- A unique curriculum EVERY session, using NEW case studies and strip reviews from actual de-identified cases from across Wisconsin.
- Discussion using current ACOG/NICHD recommendations.
- The opportunity to interact with colleagues around the state while experiencing the convenience of learning from work or home.

Learners are encouraged to register for all five sessions. Registration fees are listed below. The live, interactive sessions will be held via GoToWebinar®. For system requirements, click here.

→ PURPOSE

To use case studies to build on knowledge of and skills about interpreting electronic fetal heart rate strips.

→ INTENDED AUDIENCE

Physicians, nurses, certified nurse midwives, and other perinatal providers who routinely do electronic fetal monitoring.

→ OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the session, participants will be able to:

1. Systematically review the fetal monitoring data to identify the fetal heart rate pattern classification (category).
2. Discuss interventions/management of the fetal heart rate patterns based on their pathophysiology.

→ LEARNING OUTCOME

At the conclusion of the session, participants will be able to:

Identify required actions correctly to manage women with abnormal fetal heart rate patterns.
